

OUR NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBORS.

Pickings by Star Reporters in Neighboring Cities and Towns.

LEXINGTON, KY.

The Kentucky chestnut crop is a failure.

Senator Beck has gone to Washington City for a few days.

Messrs. Hendley & Peck are about to erect a large warehouse.

The severe cold the past two days seems to have a depressing effect on business generally.

The best quality of potatoes were selling from wagons yesterday at sixty cents per bushel.

Our enterprising merchant, Mr. Thomas G. Calvert, left yesterday on a business trip to New York.

Mr. Geo. F. De Long has returned to Lexington, and taken his old position in the house of H. & L. Lovenhart.

A negro named Tom Barry was up before the Recorder yesterday on the charge of petit larceny. He was sent on for further trial.

Mr. Alex. Williamson caught a black bear in Licking River, near Centinella, a few days ago that measured twenty inches in length.

The German Hotel on Broadway near the postoffice, kept by Mr. Guggenberg, is said to be the best managed house of the kind in the city.

Several lots of extra fine cattle passed through this city Monday for Cincinnati and the East. The price for which they were sold at the scales was $1 per hundred, just from the grass.

Two car loads of Pulaski County coal arrived in this city Monday on the Cincinnati Southern. Yesterday fifteen car loads arrived from the mines of Mr. J. H. Baker. The coal is said to be of superior quality, having the appearance of first-class canal coal. There is no danger of a coal famine in Lexington now.

Mr. Eberhart's little girl is in a fair way to recover.

Mr. Flurry Adams will shortly leave on a visit to friends in Henry County, Ky.

Temperance meeting to-night, Mr. Stanley (the master) will probably be present.

The Knights of Honor propose giving an entertainment for the benefit of the Lodge.

Mr. William Dresser, who had his left foot badly lacerated Saturday, is around again.

Regular meeting of Council will be held to-morrow evening. The meeting will be important.

A number of our citizens, whose chickens were out, are now having water hauled in barrels from the river.

A special meeting of Council was held on Monday night, which was devoid of interest, but a stormy session was held, all the same.

The M. E. Church Extension Aid Society of Philadelphia some time ago granted the Trustees of the Church $300 to enable them to build the new church. The Trustees of the Church give the Aid Society a mortgage on the property for the amount above stated.

GREENFIELD, O.

William Holmes, a laborer on the Dayton Southern Railroad, was pretty badly cut to pieces while in a fight. Holmes has a wife and two children living in Greenfield.

Coal is very scarce. It can not be got for love or money. There is plenty of coal passing over the M. & C. Road, but it all goes west. It is selling for 15 cents per bushel and still advancing.

L. P. Saxton, the baker and music expounder, has changed his boarding-house to Wm. Davis, on east end of Church street, where he can be found at his room every evening from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Peter Anderson, one of Greenfield's noblest sons, has gone to Cincinnati to attend school to study book-keeping. This is a step in the right direction, and may many more follow Peter's example.

WILMINGTON, O.

Mrs. Mary Fuller returned home from Newport Saturday after a long stay with friends and relatives. Many friends met her at the train.

Thomas E. Outcalt, a conductor on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, while coupling a car on that road yesterday was crushed to death. He was a native of this city.

The meat shop of Mr. John Stewart was robbed a few days since. The thieves were caught by a boy, Milard Martin, a brave young man about eighteen years old. He ran them about ten squares, knocking one down with his fist and brought him back to the County Jail.

LUDLOW, KY.

The Presbyterian Church Social will meet next Friday evening at the residence of Mr. W. E. Clonson, to which the public is most cordially invited.

WEST COVINGTON.

Mr. J. Arnold, of Western Row, was married last night to a charming belle of Covington.

The Rev. Dr. Bartholomew, of Covington, preached a very able discourse at the M. E. Church on Sabbath afternoon, and Dr. Buff preached at 7 o'clock.

HAMILTON.

Peter Murphy, of Princeton, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Grathbrock died Monday night at her residence on Vine street.

Mrs. Jos. King, of Miami, is visiting Mrs. J. H. Gibbons, of the Third Ward.

Mrs. Ella Smith has returned from Richmond, Ind., where she has been visiting friends.

Only one drunk registered Tuesday. All quiet along the line save the austere murmur of a Texas Johnny.

Our old friend and fellow townsman, Mr. J. C. Caldwell, has opened a cleaning and repairing shop at 109 High street.

The Straub-House register showed up this name, sober, sedate, lonely, calm as it was, "William Mack, of 7 Mile."

The Apollo Band were called upon to perform a solemn duty by taking charge of the funeral of a comrade yesterday morning.

The street cars now cross the bridge and parties from the First Ward will be saved the trouble hereafter of walking from Finton's Corner.

J. P. Davis now has a nobby office in connection with his store. It is all right in a neat and commodious style, and supplied with good furniture. J. P. believes in combining pleasure with business.

with a gold watch and $175 in silver, besides a pocket microscope, all of which was stolen from Mr. Richard Biwell. The watch was numbered 9,308, 18 carats fine, open faced, and valued at $175. A plain gold chain was taken with the watch. The thief entered through the transom, obtained his booty and escaped through the door without making any one up. It is supposed he took the early train for Cincinnati. A liberal reward is offered for the recovery of the stolen property.

SPRINGFIELD, O.

Uncle Bill Reid could not be indicted for running a disorderly house last night. Not a sound was heard.

Mayor Edward Wallace promises the boys something sensational in a few days. So you can just bet on Ed's good care for that time at least.

Mr. F. Stewart, residing near Clifton, had thirty bushels of wheat stolen from his barn on Monday night. The thieves loaded it on a wagon.

John Huffman, Officer Norton's last suspicious character, might turn up a large quantity of swag, could he only be persuaded. Get John T. Norris to pull his leg.

Donaldson, the big "mogul" about the Market-street Show, will be remembered as giving boxing exhibitions in the Coliseum, a variety theater run there by the Ridenour boys.

Mr. Hugh Hagan, the aged father of City Solicitor Hagan, departed this life in the Dayton Asylum on Tuesday morning. Deceased was an old and favorably known citizen.

Mr. W. Knight, formerly Assistant Baggage-master at the depot of the C. & C. I., has accepted the position of Assistant Ticket Agent, the place made vacant by the resignation of Sherwin.

Sherwood and Bailey, the two scoundrels who relieved Mrs. Alice Stroup of her pocket-book in rather an officious manner on Saturday night, will face the music to-day in the Court of Common Pleas.

Alexander Perrin, with a desire to sever his connection with his partner, Fanny Perrin, seeks relief from Court by taking up his grounds adultery, which he charges Fanny with engaging in with one George Parker.

Charles Thorp, driver of the hook and ladder wagon at the Central Engine House, had the elbow of his left arm dislocated on Tuesday afternoon by one of the horses slipping and falling upon him while engaged in exercising them.

Clinton Frazier, who entered and robbed the Pringle residence some months since, and who was arraigned for grand larceny, Tuesday afternoon, by one of the horses slipping and falling upon him while engaged in exercising them.

That just celebrated actor, John McCullough, was favored with only a fair house last night. We doubt if ever a star was more ably supported than was McCullough by his excellent company. He was called before the curtain several times. Buffalo Bill is to appear here during the month, when the balance of the amusement loving fraternity will be gratified.

The alarm of fire from box 32 on Tuesday morning was for a small fire in the residence of Principal George McCracken; of our schools, corner of Market and Pleasant streets. The same originated in a fire, and ignited to a book case in the room which contained many valuable works, some of which can never be replaced. Mr. McCracken estimates his loss at about $100.

The remains of Edward Hazel arrived in this city by morning express C. C. & I. this Wednesday. The funeral services were held from the Central M. E. Church this afternoon. The following gentlemen employees of the C. C. & I. officiating as pallbearers: Samuel Delano, Andrew Vorhees, Paul Beter, R. E. McMenna, J. P. Patrick, Edward Beter. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the grave.

A DARK CLOUD ABOUT HIM.—A few days since the arrest and conviction of William Jones, colored, was given to our readers. It will be remembered that Jones carried a dress-pattern, the property of Miss Laura J. Beck, of Northampton. Now when his term has almost expired an affidavit, charging him with rape, is issued, the same upon the person of a seven-year-old colored child, Bessie Pettit, by name, and done in the absence of her parents, but witnessed by several of that family's neighbors, who saw the infamous deed while peering through the window-panes of the house. The hearing is set for Thursday.

THE R. & S. R. R.—An office will be opened in this city in a few days by Messrs. Orr & Donaldson, contractors of the Springfield & Sidney Railroad, to receive subscriptions and donations for their road. The right of way to St. Paris has already been contributed, and things are just a booming. The Springfield Southern, formerly narrow gauge, will soon be made a standard gauge, five new locomotives being under completion. The new company to control it will contain several of our prominent capitalists. It is proposed to carry the road to Rockwood, connecting the line by bridge with the Chesapeake & Ohio. Thus, should the Springfield & Sidney project be carried out, we will have a direct line from the sea shore to Chicago.

While two young men named Crothers and Carney were returning home from school on Tuesday afternoon and when crossing the corner of Pleasant and Boies streets, they were suddenly knocked down by a team of horses driven by a man named Rankin, employed by Clason, the gardener. Such was the force that one of the horses fell upon them. The boys were taken up and conveyed to their homes on Boies, near Clifton street, and medical aid summoned. Crothers was found the most injured. It is feared internally. Carney was badly bruised, especially about the face. When Rankin was asked for whom he worked he replied: "None of your dam business."
